2. I saddled old Boxer and away I did ride
Till I came to an alehouse all on the road side.
I boldly went in and I sat myself down
And called for a jug of good ale that was brown.
3. So I saw two men a-playing at dice
They playing at dice and I looking on,
They playing at dice and I looking on,
They took me to be some respectable man.
4. So one of them asked me if I would play
I asked him what wager he would lay
One said a guinea, the other a pound.
The wager was bet, but the money not down.
5. So I ketched hold of the dice and I threw them all in
As luck happened 'twas my good fortune to win
For if them had a-won and I had a-lost
I should had to have sold my little Tommy Black Horse.
6. I stopped there all night until the next day
When I asked the Landlady what I had to pay
She said "Kiss me and squeeze me and then go your way
And stop any longer no money to pay"
