

Down The Plughole

1.A mo - ther was bath - ing her ba - - by one night, The poor lit - tle thing was a de - li - cate sight She turned for a mo - ment, she was - n't gone long, But when she turned back her ba - by was gone.
"Oh where is my babe?" in ang - uish she cried, "Oh where is my babe?" And an an - gel re - - plied, "Your ba - by has gone down the plug - hole, your ba - by has gone down the plug.
The poor lit - tle mite, so thin and so slight, It should have been washed in the jug.
Your ba - by is con - tent and hap - py; It won't want a wash a - ny more.
It's floa - ted a - way down the plug - hole Not lost but gone be - fore."

Source: Gwen Hannis, Cranham. Collected by Gwilym Davies 8 October 1987.

©Gloucestershire Traditions