

When Jones' Ale was New

2. And the next come in was a tin-ker, And he was no small beer drin-ker, And he was a small beer drin-ker, To join the jo vial crew. "A - ny pots or pans or ket - tles to fet - tle?" His ri - vets are made of the ve - ry best me - tal, His ri - vets are made of the ve - ry best me - tal. When Jo - - nes' ale was new, me boys, When Jo - nes' ale was new. _____

1. (The first four lines of the "mason" verse are missing)

He threw his old hammer again' the wall,
 And swore all churches and chapels could fall,
 That was the end of the mason's all,
 When Jones' ale was new, me boys,
 When Jones' ale was new.

3. And the next come in was a soldier,
 And who could be much bolder?
 But who could be much bolder?
 To join the jovial crew.
 The landlord's daughter she came in,
 He kissed her on the lip and on the chin,
 When the pints and quarts came rolling in,
 When Jones' ale was new, me boys,
 When Jones' ale was new.

Source: Sung by Charles and Lawrence Ladbroke, Chipping Campden 1968. Collected by Peter Duddridge.